PU-OLD is the first Texas Sport Kit CUB delivered to a foreign customer.

American Legend Aircraft Company

THE AMERICAN Legend Aircraft Company of Sulphur Springs, Texas, announced on February 2 that the first Texas Sport Kit CUB to be assembled outside the United States had been completed. Over ten months the kit was assembled by FLYER Indústria Aeronáutica of São Paulo in Brazil after being delivered in 2009. The aircraft has been registered as PU-OLD.

The kit is based on the Legend CUB light sport aircraft, a new-build version of the Piper J-3 produced with modern construction materials, including a fully welded chromoly airframe sealed against corrosion and predominantly aluminium wings in place of the J-3's wooden structures. It also has an electric starter for the engine that also provides power for avionics and lighting options, and can be flown solo from either the front or rear seat. Fuel is carried in dual wing tanks, while the fuselage is slightly wider than the original Piper design. Both the kit and finished aircraft are produced at the same facility. American Legend Aircraft also offers a wide range of custom items for the kit.
